With the number of extras usually taken, the eharges will not exeeed $185 per annum, whieh is mueh less than the average standard of expenses in other Institutions presenting the same advantages.

Remarks.

This Institution was opened for the reeeption of seholars on the 24th of January, 1853. The buildings are ample, eonvenient and pleasant. No expense has been spared in seeuring the serviees of the best instruetors in all the departments, and great exertions have been made to render the instruetion thorough and eomplete. The eourse of study seleeted for this Institution, is adapted to the wants of the public, and embraees as many of the essential requisities of a thorough and judieious mental diseipline, as any of a like institution in this eountry. It embraees the solid and ornamental braneh es; both those that impart a knowledge of what is useful in life, and those that ereate a taste for what is elegant and beautiful in nature and art. It eomprehends those braneh es whieh are highly valuable for the prineiples and faets they ineuleate, and others, ehiefly pursued for the mental vigor and diseipline they impart.

It is adapted to the wants and necessities of children in the first rudiments of primary instruction, and rises in gradation as the intellectual strength and enlarged capacity of the child demands,

It is adapted to the medium scholar, and offers the most approved systems of Geography, Grammar, Arithmetic and History.

It embraces, also, in the advanced branches of study, those sciences which have engaged the noblest minds to construct and arrange, and whose influence tends to purify, elevate and refine the moral sentiments of the scholar.

Payment of Bills.

All bills are payable one-half in advance, and the remainder at the close of the session. Every student entered, is charged from the time of entrance to the close of the session, and no deduction is made for absence, unless for protracted sickness.

Apparatus.

A set of Philosophical, Astronomical and Chemical Apparatus has been procured for the Institute, which for utility and completeness, is not surpassed by any similar Institution in the State.

Lectures.

Courses of Lectures with illustrations and experiments, will be delivered upon Nat. Philosophy, Chemistry and Astronomy.

Reports.

At the close of each scholastic year, a circular, containing a faithful account of the attendance, deportment and scholarship of each pupil, will be sent to the parent or guardian.

Sessions and Vacations.

The scholastic year will commence on the 2d Monday of September, and continue 42 weeks. During the year, there will be a vacation, commencing the Friday before Christmas, and continuing until the 2d Monday of January. Pupils can remain in the Institution during vacations, if desired.

Religious Instruction.

Morning and evening worship is held in the school-room, when all the Students are required to be present. On Sabbath, all Students, boarding in the institution, are required to attend at any church their parents or guardian may direct; and also, the Bible Classes organized for Sabbath instruction.

Government.

The government is mild, and such as tends to induce the pupil to act from principle. Kindness and private counsel are deemed the proper means to reclaim the erring; if these fail, the pupil is referred to her parent or guardian to be withdrawn. Errors in behavior, and deficiences or failure in lessons, are marked and reviewed at stated times during the session. In this way the scholar is reminded of her delinquencies, and compelled to reflect upon the results of them.

Particular care is exercised to preserve the health, refine the manners, and secure the morals of all Students placed under the care of the Faculty. All their purchases are made under the supervision and by the advice of the teacher accompanying them; and no accounts are permitted to be opened with merchants, unless by the sanction of the parent or guardian.

Books.

Books, Stationery, Music and Painting Materials may be had of the Principal.

Location.

The town of Clinton is situated only 14 miles from Warsaw, and 35 miles from Fayetteville, with a daily line of four-horse stages running through the town, from Fayetteville to Warsaw. This renders it very accessible. The situation is equally remote from the flat lands of the Atlantic Coast, and the mountain regions of upper North Carolina, with a fine surrounding country, and a most salubrious climate, which renders it one of the most healthy villages in the State. The Institute is not within the sound of the village attractions, nor so remote as to be inconvenient—being situated in a beautiful grove, on a lot of six acres of land, and within the corporate limits of the town.

Library.

The Library of the Principal, consisting of a choice selection of literary and scientific works, is accessible to the higher classes of Students without charge.

Examination.

A public Examination of all the Students will be held at the close of each scholastic year. During the examination there will be a concert of vocal and instrumental music.
